

INFRARED HEATER

at Calm Amongst the Chaos

- Calm Amongst the Chaos is a dress-makers working studio that design and make dresses for brides, occasional and evening gowns. Located in the heart of the New Forest in Ringwood . Her team contribute expertise, creativity, and versatility to the process, enriching the experience for every client.
- Chaos was looking for reducing heating costs and Empower Energy advised to them to use infrared heaters, which are the most energy efficient and economical alternative to gas, oil and traditional electrical heating systems. The energy efficiency is up to 60% over traditional form of electric heating and up to 30% of the annual energy usage for gas storage heating.
- The heaters were mounted on the ceiling in strategic places and so are not in the way of the working place. The infrared heaters are stylish, innovative and makes them perfect for cutting their heating bills.

Infrared heaters offer an unprecedented level of control over their property's temperature and energy use, and offer thermal comfort levels. They do not require maintenance or servicing and the products are certified to national safety standards.

Infrared heating is completely free of all carbon emissions.

" Since having the new heating system we have found we are much warmer and the studio has maintained a constant heat. We are very pleased. "
